

FRACTURED ART MOSAICS Sheryl Crowley

Sheryl Crowley was always a kid who lived inside her imagination. She had the great fortune to grow up among a close community of artists and craftspeople. Their examples of openness, compassion and exploration became key influences that later contributed to her artistic outpouring; expressions of her inner life connected to an artist's interpretation of the tangible and complex world around her. Her work has been shown at the Saint John Arts Centre, Sunbury Shores Arts & Nature Centre, the George Fry Gallery and Handworks Gallery among others. Her mural installations grace the YMCA of Greater Saint John and the Imperial Theatre of Saint John. She has worked collaboratively with children in multiple School Residencies and taught both adult and youth classes. Collectors have shared, "You captured the feels in a picture that I didn't know anyone else could understand, let alone see." "It is beautiful. I see fear, longing, vulnerability, and courage in the (...) image. There is a simplicity in the lines and power in their boldness". Sheryl seeks to summon an emotional transformation; bringing the viewer into a deeper compassion for our fragile, tormented species.

Sheryl is a Juried member of CraftNB, and a professional member of both Canadian Artists Representation Le Front Des Artistes Canadiens (CARFAC) and ArtsLinkNB.
